Programming with the receiver :

Use this process if you no longer have a working remote control.
This method will delete all the existing programmed remote controls.

1. Press and hold down the button P until the LED light 2 flashes
2. Press the button P several times until the LED light 7 flashes
3. Press the button on your new remote control. The LED 7 blinks more quickly
4. Press the button P and release it. Wait ten seconds
5. Your new remote control is programmed

Programming with an already-programmed remote control:

1. Plug a wire plug into your existing remote control (It must be in good working order)
2. Find the three holes in the side of your remote
3. Insert the three-pin plug in your existing remote control
4. Plug your new remote on to the three pins and make sure that the two remotes are entirely connected
5. Press a button on your existing remote control and hold it in until the red light flashes
6. Press the button on your new remote control (the one you want to program) and
